

THE THIEVES ROAD

[\[Also in Italian: □ L'Ultima Battaglia di Custer - \(Click\)\]](#)

(A full-length play in Sixteen Scenes)

by HW Freedman

© Copyright 2009 by the Author

The Thieves Road was chosen Stageplay Winner by the 2011 Moondance International Film Festival.

SYNOPSIS

Denver Colorado, 1891.

Armstrong, a rancher, has hired Sarah as his young girl. Through the side of Native Americans and

Time: June, 1891

Settings:

The stage is bare, except for the minimum props and furniture required for e

Cast Breakdown:

ARMSTRONG, age 50

SARAH, age 22

LIBBIE (Elizabeth Bacon Custer), age 47

Costumes:

ARMSTRONG wears an army (huzza) jacket with the insignia of a Major-General in the U.S. Seventh C

LIBBIE is dressed in black as a widow from the 1870s.

SARAH is dressed as a young woman in the 1890s.

Production History: Uproduced

Excerpt from a professional reader's report:

The Thieves Road... “resonates with contemporary world events. Vivid and emotive verbal Imagery