

SOMETHING IN COMMON

(a full-length play)

Written by H W Freedman

© Copyright by the Author

You can now see the Trailer for Something in Common click here

Something in Common has been published as an eBook, Click here

(Something in Common - Qualcosa in Comune - is now available in Italian)

Per Qualcosa in Comune, Click Qui

SYNOPSIS

Charlie is a mysterious and attractive woman who has a secret plan to ensure the justice she needs

Time: The Present.

Place: London.

Settings: Various Locations.

Cast Breakdown:

CHARLIE Female, British, age 28

DAVE American, age 30's

TOM American, age 30's

Production History: 1999 Edinburgh Fringe Festival, Assembly Rooms.
Transferred to London, Warehouse Theatre, Croydon

“... what starts out as a quirky highly charged sexual drama evolved into a disturbing and urgent thriller.”

“Charlie uses sexual charms as an angler uses bait to attract the men she needs for her mission and she skilfully teases and plays them in until they are hooked and landed.”

Charlie’s “...seduction techniques are reminiscent of Sharon Stone’s famous leg crossing and uncrossing in the film Basic Instinct.”

Something in Common “. . . will keep you guessing . . . the final moments of truth in which Charlie pours out her harrowing story are enough to make your blood run cold.”